Coast Weekend
The reports I have heard and all that I saw confirm that the past weekend on the coast was a very happy one for hundreds of our boys and many staff that work with them. The weekend was a rare opportunity for TAS boys to travel away with no other agenda than to enjoy one another’s company and have fun. As frivolous as that might seem, it is an important time though as relationships are firmed and bonds forged that we hope will last into the future.

I congratulate each of our houses on the success of the weekend and thank all the staff who joined them and helped make it such a happy time.

Swimming Carnivals
The third week of the year is an important juncture for the School as a whole as it features Junior and Middle / Senior School Swimming carnivals, the Middle School information evening and, of course, the war cry competition. It is also a time when many boarders meet with their families for the first time after the hectic first few weeks of school.

I enjoyed seeing the Junior Swimming Carnival in full swing today and congratulate all involved in a very happy day. Our senior swimmers have already been in the pool for the 200m I.M. championships on Monday night and there will be plenty more to come on Thursday evening and Friday. TAS swimming carnivals are renowned as mass participation events and I know that for many this week is as much about house spirit and the camaraderie that goes with it as it is with the swimming. I also know though that for our most competitive swimmers, this is an opportunity to compete alongside their schoolmates and I especially wish those boys well.

From what I have heard around the campus during advisor periods and before prep, the standard of war cries on Thursday night may well set new standards. I hope that new parents to the School know that this is very much a family event and it is bound to be entertaining. The seating for the evening and the main segment of the carnival on Friday is limited, but I recommend it to all as a thoroughly entertaining spectacle and hope to see a big crowd there again this year.

Year 11 Mother and Son Weekend
I hope that families, and mothers of Year 11 boys in particular, have seen the invitation to the Mother and Son Weekend coming up this weekend. I know from reports of the inaugural weekend last year that this is an opportunity to be cherished. It comes only once and at a time when sons are moving into the final stretch before leaving home. Those reports reflected much of what I experienced from the father and son weekend some years ago and based on that I believe it is an opportunity to be prioritised if at all possible. It is still possible to join the group and that can be done by visiting http://teams.as.edu.au/groups/secretmums/

Douglas Shield
Whilst our junior swimmers were in the pool, our senior cricketers were on the TAS Oval for the third round of the Douglas Shield competition. Chasing a total of 252 that must have looked like a bridge too far as early wickets fell in the TAS innings, our 1st XI carried on to win in an exciting and evenly matched game against Calrossy, due in good part to a big partnership between Rory Spiers and Jack Bennett.

For those unfamiliar with this competition, the Douglas Shield is a state-wide independent schools knock-out competition for schools not associated with the GPS or CAS competitions in Sydney. It is divided into 4 regions and TAS will now move on to the final for our region and what is effectively the quarter final of the overall competition, in a match against Kinross Walaroi in the coming weeks.
Website Launch

More detail will be provided in next week’s edition of TAS Talks, but for the moment I offer a reminder that the new TAS website will be launched on Friday morning. All that will be needed to access the new site is to refresh your browser from your link to the old TAS website. You will then be taken to what I hope you find is a fresh, new look that reflects our desire to communicate with you and the world in the most useful and comprehensive way we can. The site has been designed for use on all devices from smart phones to computers so I encourage you to test it out.

As you open the site, you will notice that there are two distinct levels of information. The top of the home page offers a horizontal menu bar designed to give those who are unfamiliar with TAS the information they need to understand the vision, goals and aspirations of the school.

At the bottom of the home page you will see access to the 3 portals for students, parents and staff. These have been specifically designed with information we believe these groups need to access as quickly and easily as possible. Detailed information can be found on everything from what is happening in classes to sports notices, student travel, school policies and much more. It should all be only a click away and very easy to navigate.

I offer my considerable thanks to our Development Office for their commitment to seeing the new site to its launch and I encourage all in the TAS community to take some time to look at it. We welcome all feedback by emailing cmort@as.edu.au.

READY TO LAUNCH

Don’t forget to refresh your web browser on Friday 14 February to see our fabulous new website.

Our new website is on the way

We are all working busily to finalise the website content. The new website launch has been delayed so that we can make sure that you get the most out of your new Parent, Staff and Student portals. Check back to see the new site on the 14th of Feb.

MOTHER & SON WEEKEND

In its second year, our Year 11 Mother-son weekend will be held at Nymboida Canoe Centre, about two hours on the Grafton Road from Ebor, on February 15-16.

The main thrust of our time together is to relax and enjoy one another’s company in an environment devoid of the trappings of modern life. You’ll be led through some interesting activities to get to know one another better—essentially conversation starters, and there’ll be more input from mums that have already seen their boy through this time, and others that have a unique perspective on this age group.

It’s plain and simple: time together and an opportunity to talk—something year 11 guys find difficult occasionally (noticed that?)

Check it out at teams.as.edu.au/groups/secretmums/

STUDY TOUR TO JAPAN

There are still a few vacancies available to participate on the 15 day Japan/China Study Tour in September. This is the second trip to Japan after the highly successful visit two years ago. We will be visiting Beijing, Tokyo, Kyoto, Hiroshima, Kagoshima and our exchange school at Meitoku. The trip is open to Years 9, 10 and 11 Japanese and HSIE students.

Bookings are to be made soon so don’t miss out on participating on this amazing trip. Please contact Allan Moore at amoore@as.edu.au or David Toakley at dtoakley@as.edu.au for more details.
Absque Deo Nihil
Proverbs 1:2-7

Like a 21st speech may start with ‘thanks to my parents, for without them I wouldn't be here’, so we can say without God – we wouldn't be here, nothing would be here, without Him – nothing. However, where does that leave us, as we travel through life as created beings, do we also say without God nothing?

At this point it’s helpful to introduce the idea of another rendering of the Latin ‘Absque.’ We often translate it as ‘without’ – but just as valid is the rendering ‘aside from’. So here we pick up the idea of, what if I choose to live my life aside from God? Pushing God to the outskirts of my life, turning my back on God and His ways? The school motto would say that leads to emptiness – nothingness.

Learning how to provide appropriate restraints and limits for our adolescent child while also discriminating when to encourage new expressions of autonomy and self-development are core issues in parenting young adolescents. It’s not about being perfect as a parent, it’s about learning how to stay in the arena in a positive, hopeful and realistic way. Why not drop by for a chat if this is of interest to you.

This Counsellor’s Corner is addressed to people involved in the adolescent transition that TAS calls the Middle School experience.

When we think about life as a journey and the many transitions that occur during it, we begin to see how challenging the process of adaptation can be. When we talk about ‘adaptation’ it is tempting to oversimplify it as a ‘moving on’, perhaps even an avoidance of the need to linger with what is difficult or painful in our lives. In fact adaptation is a more dynamic and complex process.

For our purposes here, as parents of emerging adolescents do we sometimes try to keep things the same, the way they have been? For example, perhaps we don’t like the sense of personal loss as we see the child-parent relationship change and our child assume more independent stances towards us and gravitate more towards their peers. The things that worked well previously seem not to fit any more – there are more contests over what is right, appropriate or reasonable in relation to behaviour, values and expectations. This process of trying to keep things the same is called ‘assimilation’ – trying to force new events into old relationship moulds.

The opposite process of allowing change to occur and learning new ways of responding to things that happen in the light of our child’s transition into adolescence, is called ‘accommodation’. In this we change our approach, we allow old moulds that don’t fit any more to pass by, and we learn new ways of relating to a young adolescent. This can be challenging and it is easy to imagine that we are losing our place in their lives. The point is – parents are still very important!

Let me now introduce one more comment and here we go from translating Latin, to those who many regard as societies greatest commentators – the people from Jackass.

Being shot into the air in a portable latrine, being shot at in the air as if you were a duck, being smacked so that you are completely laid out on the ground by a giant-spring-loaded-hand the size of Mr Lincoln – this doesn’t seem to be the stuff that wisdom is made of.

Our reading from Proverbs would say to leave God out leads to nothingness. That to ignore sound instruction, to ignore words of insight, to turn your back on righteousness, justice and equity, to knowledge and discretion, to turn your back on the maker’s instructions is more than reckless, is more than being a ‘Jackass’, who’s pain is momentary. Proverbs tells us it is foolish. So let the wise increase their learning, let the wise fear the Lord, for this is the beginning of knowledge, the wise do not live their lives aside from God, but in reverent respect of Him.

This Counsellor’s Corner is addressed to people involved in the adolescent transition that TAS calls the Middle School experience.

Want to be a leader? Need a challenge?

The annual TAS leadership course is to be run for cadets from Year 9 and up.

The course runs from Wednesday afternoon the 19th February through to Sunday 23rd February (Week 4).

The first 2 days will be run at the Army Reserve barracks at UNE, followed by 2 days in the bush.

If you would like to take up the challenge, please write your name down on the list in the cadet training office (or see Sergeant Ball), or otherwise email me and I will place you on the list.

We plan to have an information session at lunchtime next Tuesday 4th February in 50-1 at 1.30pm.

Cost of the course is approximately $120, covering rations and equipment.
Swimming Carnivals
Our Junior School swimming was fantastic yesterday, thanks to all the supporters, volunteers and cake bakers. Congratulations to all the students who took part in the day’s activities. All monies raised will go back into our school.

This Friday is the Middle/Senior School swimming carnival; we will run our cakes and tea/coffee stall in the Sports Centre foyer. The Liaison Parents are looking for volunteers to bake cakes and biscuits, and work on the Cake Stall. This will work on a roster system with each year group covering an hour. Please help where you can. A BBQ lunch will be provided for all parents.

Liaison Parents 2014
Thanks to all those fantastic parents who have volunteered to be Liaison Parents for 2014.

AGM
Our Annual General Meeting will be held Wednesday 19th February 2014. The AGM will take place at 7pm in the McConville Centre. All executive positions will be declared vacant and a new executive for 2014 will be elected. If you would like to get more involved, and be part of a team which raises funds to enhance the facilities that our children use each day please contact Sandra Kaynes on 0438373189 or skaynes@bigpond.com

New England juniors are planning to field teams in the U12’s, 13’s, 14’s & 15’s (yes U15s too)!!

Trials for squad selection will be held at Moran Oval on Sunday 2 March 1pm - 4pm.

All rugby players within these age groups are encouraged to attend. The age you turn this year is the age group you would try out for (e.g turning 14 this year then U14s).

The country rugby champions will occur as follows:

* U12s & U13s: 10th-11th May at Shoalhaven
* U14s & U15s: 3rd - 4th May at Newcastle

Please check out the country juniors website at: http://www.countryjuniors.com.au/

Please see Mr Thatcher if you have any questions.

If you want to play but can’t make the trial (eg Gold Cup players or Westside Story cast members) please see Mr Thatcher so you can be registered.
SWIMMING CHAMPIONSHIPS
The swimming continues this Thursday night and all day Friday commencing with the 200m Freestyle and war cries and culminating in the relays on Friday afternoon at 320pm.

I look forward to celebrating with you the efforts of all our young men in their many endeavours this year, although I encourage you to join us on the Thursday night where the true spirit and culture of our house system comes to life.

PLEASE NOTE: that those boys who place in our swimming Championships may be selected for the North Coast Independent Schools Championships in Lismore on 4th March.

POLOCROSSE SUCCESS
Congratulations to Sam Finlayson who has been selected as Captain of the NSW Junior Boys team at the 2014 Barastoc Championships in Warwick in April.
Coast Weekend and beyond

Last Friday afternoon I travelled to Coffs Harbour with the boarders from White and Dangar. It was really encouraging to see that a number of dayboys availing themselves of this opportunity, too. We had a wonderful time: swimming in the pool and the sea; living in cabins; ten pin bowling; the Jetty Jump; trampoline competitions; BBQ meals and beach walks. It is so good to report that, after only two weeks, the boys were more often than not laughing (at my expense, I might add, when it came to the Jetty Jump) and communicating so easily with one another and the staff.

So, we’ve completed two weeks and I’m increasingly confident that the boys are progressing well. New ones, especially, are adjusting to new routines in a new school with so many others they’ve only just met. But, as indicated last week, we need to keep contact as there may be some issues relating to your sons that we can assist with to ensure the easiest possible management of school life at the beginning of the year. Further, it’s important for them to know that you are communicating with us.

You’ll have received by now information about the Parent Information Session, BBQ and start of the Swimming Carnival this coming Thursday evening. Again, I encourage you, wherever possible, to attend these sessions and also the continuing swimming activities on Friday. For many families this will be your first actual contact with the boys and it’s time to ‘catch up’, encourage and listen to them. Certainly, there’s much news to tell and I know the Middle School boys are looking forward to the end of this week, in particular. All, for example, have been attending their Senior Houses for War Cry sessions and such activities are necessary to the development of their perceptions of ‘community’.

The Boarding House Prefects and Swimming Captains have made our boys feel welcome in their respective Houses – I know this for a fact because I’ve been trailing after them to witness the activity. While the boys’ capacity (I refer to boys of all ages, not just yours) to ‘hold a tune’ is questionable, the volume is nothing less than impressive and I know you, too, will enjoy the carnival.

Dewey

“Education is a regulation of the process of coming to share in the social consciousness; and that the adjustment of individual activity on the basis of this social consciousness is the only sure method of social reconstruction”.

I’ve reading recently and have spoken to people about the differences between education and schooling. Dewey is someone whose work continues to impress me. Clearly his ideas, being penned in the late eighteenth century, are not new but the principles he espouses help us to realign our teaching methods in this new century of rapid change in so many areas of life. What he says about teachers is so important, particularly at a time when technological tools are so much a part of our ‘trade’.

Effectively, teachers are not in schools to impose certain ideas or to form certain habits in the child, but is there ‘as a member of the community to select the influences which shall affect the child and to assist him in properly responding to these. Thus the teacher becomes a partner in the learning process’, to guide students to independently discover meaning within a given subject area. Accordingly, the process of learning involves the individual and allows for, indeed encourages, situations where students discover meaning for themselves. For Middle School students, in particular, such a process is vital because it encourages enquiry and engagement. While situations sometimes require students to be quiet and good listeners, they must not be passive when they learn. And they must be encouraged to have enquiring minds. I want you to help us here – encourage your sons to ask questions about their work.

Mark Harrison
HEAD OF JUNIOR SCHOOL, IAN LLOYD

Swimming Championships
At the time of writing, I know that preparations have been completed for the Junior School Swimming Championships. Mrs Christine Wright, our Sports Coordinator, has been planning ahead to ensure the organisation is in place. It is a huge job, and without her diligence and the assistance of all the staff and parent helpers, the day would not be able to proceed. Our thanks go to all those involved.

It is also a significant day for our whole school community, as we come together through the P&F and the Liaison parent body and I look forward to the opportunity to contribute to their fund raising by sampling the goods on offer. Again we extend our thanks to all those who have contributed.

I have spoken to all students recently both at lines and in assembly about the importance of good sportsmanship and the expectation that we have for cheering each other on during the day. This is a message I would like to reinforce throughout the year as we head towards the winter season. Learning to congratulate others and support those who have had a go, no matter what the result, is important to us and I would ask that we support this principle by reinforcing this message at home.

Junior School Assemblies
I would like to extend an open invitation to all our parents to come along and join us on Wednesday afternoons for our regular Junior School assemblies. Usually held in the Hoskins Centre, each class take the opportunity to showcase some of the work they have been doing in class, along with other items that can be entertaining informative or just plain weird. Achievements are recognised and celebrated and when the Headmaster presents the TAS Bear to the class of the week, the dramatic anticipation is spine tingling. It is usually a lot of fun and I encourage you to come along and have a look.

Life Education Van
Healthy Harold is back in town and we are all attending to learn a little bit more about pursuing a healthy lifestyle and how to stay safe. It is a great program, and one that fits in well with our curriculum and the PD lessons. Please take the time to discuss the topics raised during these sessions and we look forward to implementing some new initiatives in this area soon.

Money at School
I have been asked to mention that bring money to school can cause unnecessary issues. We have noticed children going form the Homework Centre to the canteen after school and we are discouraging this to prevent problems from arising as everyone is provided with afternoon tea.

Classroom Assistants
Callum Gibson and Thabe Sebola, our resident Gappies, are now fully engaged in their roles in our classrooms. Their assistance is greatly appreciated and the benefits to the children are enormous. Mr Aaron Kennewell, a 2nd year Education student at UNE has also volunteered his time and it is greatly appreciated. If you meet any of these gentlemen in your travels, please say hello and make yourself know to them.

Happy Birthday
This week we wish a very happy birthday to Ruby Straker.
Arrival at School
Now that family routines are established again for school term, we would appreciate children arriving at School no later than 8.45am each morning.

Class lessons start at 8.45am and children can miss crucial planning for the day if they arrive late, and it also disrupts the learning of other children in the class when instructions and arrangements have to be repeated for late arrivals.

Your children get an even greater start to the day if they can be here for at least 15 minutes prior to this so that they can play with their friends before School starts.

We are very thankful of your support of staff and other children by helping us with this.

Absentee notices
Exemption forms are a Board of Studies requirement for any child taking leave for any other reason than medical or illness. Forms can be downloaded from the Junior School Homepage. In the case of illness please email your classroom teacher, with a copy to Fiona at junior@as.edu.au as soon as possible. All records for absentees will be filed at the School for administrative reasons.

Year 5 Homework Centre / Library
Year 5 have the opportunity to visit the Library in the afternoons after school, instead of reporting to the Homework Centre. In the Library the children are expected to act responsibly at all times. This is a special treat available only to Year 5 students. Should you wish your child to be allowed to do this, please email or write to Mrs Dowse, as the Library staff will only allow those children whose parents have written to Mrs Dowse to use the Library. Due to the absence of a Junior School staff member children using the library are not allowed to use their laptops during this time.

Tae Kwon Do
Many of our Junior School students are participating in this activity, held at the Hoskins Centre on Tuesday afternoons from 3.45 pm. The sessions cost $8 and this goes towards financing additional kit and equipment. Please contact the school for further information.

Chess Club
Chess Club will be held on a Tuesday mornings at 8.05am in the E&E classroom room.

Middles School students will be on hand to give advice and help those students who are learning the game of Chess.

Dance Club
Dance Club will commence this Wednesday. If your child would like to attend, please collect a note from Junior School reception.

If your child is participating in Dance Club, please do not give your child a lunch order.

Head Lice
Please be diligent in checking your child’s head for Head Lice. Many children in the Armidale area have already had Head Lice this year and we would love to keep lice out of the School.

Below is a link to the Government website on head lice detection and control. Please take the time to view this website.  http://www.health.wa.gov.au/docreg/Education/Diseases/Communicable/Parasitic/HP0149_head_lice_FS.pdf

Gymnastics
Despite it being a very hot afternoon in the gymnasium on Monday, our gymnasts still managed to work hard, practising a range of skills and having fun in the process. The session started with the usual circuit and stretches. The 4 skills developed during this week's session were Rotation, Statics, Locomotion and Springing and Landing. It was hard to pick a favourite but everyone enjoyed the safety falls into the pit as well as the entertaining animal walks and cheerleading! The Gymnastics program lead by Carole O’Hara is fantastic and all the children are making wonderful progress.

SCHOLASTIC BOOK CLUB
Book Club due Wednesday 19th February, 2014

By now, your children will have brought home some brochures from the Scholastic Book Club. If you would like to purchase from these brochures, simply select any books your child would like and return the order to the RED LETTER BOX, which can be found in the Junior School office by Wednesday 19th February, 2014. Make sure your child’s name and year is on each order. Payment can be made by cheque or credit card using the Scholastic Online Payment System. PLEASE DO NOT SEND CASH.

The Book Club will now be run from the TAS Library, so if you have any questions, please pop in, phone on 6776 5833, or email to nramazan@as.edu.au.

Happy Reading!

NO APOLOGIES, NO EXCUSES
When it comes to child safety, Armidale Council and the New South Wales Police make no apologies for fining drivers who break the law around schools and school zones.

If you are caught speeding in a school zone or parking illegally, you will be fined. Fines for parking in school zones put children at risk.
